

BLOOD FLOWS DURING REVOLT IN A PENITENTIARY

POPE NAMES PRINCES OF THE CHURCH.

POPE LEO XIII.

Consistory Meets and Impressive Ceremonies Are Conducted By the Pontiff.

ROME, June 22.—The Consistory was especially important, owing to the persistent rumors regarding the Pope's ill health and the previous postponement.

Naturally, a ceremony in which the Pope, half hidden in vestments, is borne on a chair and is canonically assisted, is not the best opportunity to judge of his appearance or the state of his health, but a man capable of undergoing the strain of such a function has plenty of vitality.

The Pontiff's features seem slightly more cut and his hands trembled perceptibly, but his voice is plainly heard, though it has lost something of its power.

The ceremony was shortened as much as possible and only lasted about thirty-five minutes.

All the cardinals of the Curia were invited to the Vatican half an hour before the Pope's appearance, and they assembled in the Consistory Hall in order of precedence, forming a striking picture.

The entrance of the Pope, clad in white vestments and surrounded by his trusted companions in their elaborate robes, gave a finishing touch to the scene.

After receiving the homage of these present, the Pontiff recited a prayer and then proceeded to the nomination of new cardinals.

The traditional secrecy was maintained, though now it is largely a matter of form.

The Pope proposed each new cardinal, the members of the Sacred College signifying their assent by raising their caps.

The following were created cardinals: Monsignor Fischer, archbishop of Cologne; Monsignor Talloni, Papal Nuncio at Vienna; Monsignor Cavichioni, secretary of the Congregation of the Council; Monsignor Juti, Papal Nuncio at Lisbon; Monsignor Nocci, secretary of the Consistorial Congregation; Monsignor Katschthaler, archbishop of Salzburg, Austria; Most Reverend Herro y Espinosa, archbishop of Valencia.

The Pope transferred Cardinal Serafino Vannutelli from the bishopric of Frascati to that of Porto Santa Rufina.

Cardinal Satolli was transferred from the bishopric of Santa Maria in Arcecello, to the diocese of Frascati, near Rome, the summer residence of the Roman aristocracy.

Afterwards the Pope announced the nomination of several archbishops who had been appointed by brief.

The Pontiff appointed Cardinal Amaldi, who has been replaced as prefect of economy of the propaganda, to be vice-chancellor of the Chiesadella Vaticana.

At the conclusion of the Consistory, the Pope went to the throne room, where, surrounded by the cardinals and the Papal court, he received the homage of the new archbishops and bishops.

The ancient ceremonies were observed, each of the prelates kissing the Pontiff's foot and receiving the apostolic benediction.

In the meanwhile the masters of ceremonies accompanied by church dignitaries proceeded to the residence of Monsignors Fischer, Cavichioni and Nocci, announced their appointments and informed them that the Pope would bestow the red hats on them at a public Consistory to be held Thursday.

Specially selected members of the Noble Guard will be sent to officially convey the news to appointees who are abroad.

DO NOT WANT A RECEIVER.

CHICAGO, June 22.—An injunction was issued today in the Superior Court restraining Homer Peters and Herman E. Ryerson from taking action for the appointment of a receiver for the brokerage firm of Bartlett Frazier and Company. According to the application upon which the injunction was issued, the defendants have demanded unreasonable compensation for "an alleged good will" in the firm. The complainants, William H. Bartlett, Frank P. Frazier and Charles E. Ryerson, assert that they fear a receiver will be asked for and the business of the firm thus interrupted.

CONVICTS GIVE BATTLE TO THE GUARDS.

Captured the Warden's Wife and Placed Her in Front of Them.

CANON CITY, Colo., June 22.—One convict was shot and instantly killed and another fatally wounded by guards at the State Penitentiary this morning when attempting to escape.

At 8 o'clock a number of convicts overpowered the overseers and guards at the wash house, securing their keys.

On the way to the front gate, the convicts captured Mrs. Cleghorn, wife of the warden, and placed her in front of them. Reaching the front gate they dynamited it and got outside, taking Mrs. Cleghorn with them.

The warden instructed the guards to pick the convicts off, taking care not to shoot his wife. When fifty yards from the prison, Mrs. John C. Cleghorn fainted and the convicts released her. In the shooting which was general from the guard, Convict Kuykendall, No. 5,385, was instantly killed by Guard Redman.

James Armstrong, the ringleader, was shot by Night Captain Clark and he will die.

Tom Fallon was captured on the bank of the big ditch.

Two other men are reported captured at some little distance from the prison and two others are known to be gone, one of them being wounded.

Fallon was seriously wounded. He was one of the prisoners who recently attempted to escape from the County Jail in Denver and was one of the leaders in today's outbreak.

There were fifteen convicts in the party that broke out of the prison today and it is said all have been recaptured. Among the prison officials who were overpowered was Dr. Palmer, the prison physician, who had been called on the pretense that his services were needed by a sick prisoner. He was bound and gagged and stripped of his clothes, which were donned by one of the fugitives.

Kuykendall, the convict who was killed, was serving a sentence for stealing ore from a mine in the Cripple Creek district.

James Armstrong, a las James Young was serving ten years for burglary committed in Florence. Armstrong had attempted to escape once before.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.

CANON CITY, Colo., June 22.—The courage of Warden John C. Cleghorn and his guards today suppressed the most desperate revolt that has ever occurred at the Colorado penitentiary. For a time the maddest convicts swept away all opposition and a whooping jail delivery seemed inevitable, but the warden rallied the panic-stricken guards, shot down the ringleaders of the mutineers and averted a catastrophe.

The revolt had been carefully planned. The signal for the attack upon the guards was given at 8:15 o'clock this morning, while the convicts were at work in the washhouse. There were only a few overseers present and they were quickly overpowered.

Headed by James Armstrong, the mutineers, six in number, started for the main gate, felling every guard who attempted to interfere with their progress. Mrs. Cleghorn, the wife of the warden, appeared when the gang was within a few feet of the gate. She was roughly seized by Armstrong and forced along in front of the maddest prison-breakers.

The main gate was locked, but dynamite was quickly produced and the structure was blown up. The convicts rushed through the opening a freedom. They were forced to carry Mrs. Cleghorn, who had fainted.

News of the revolt had been carried to Warden Cleghorn and he rallied the guards and manned the walls.

"Keep cool, boys," he shouted, "and shoot to kill, but do not injure my wife."

The guards followed instructions, and while some remained on the walls, others rushed through the gates to head off the fleeing convicts, who abandoned Mrs. Cleghorn about fifty yards from the main gate.

Guard Redman shot Kuykendall and Night Captain Tom Clark shot James Armstrong. Kuykendall was instantly killed and Armstrong cannot live.

The fall of the leaders disheartened the mutineers and they surrendered without a struggle.

Besides Armstrong and Kuykendall, those concerned in the outbreak were Tom Fallon, Tom Pister, Cunz Cordova and Robert Kane.

Kuykendall was serving a sentence for stealing and resisting officers in Cripple Creek. Armstrong was serving a sentence for robbery and was to be taken to Utah to be tried for a murder committed in Ogden.

RUNAWAY TRAIN CAUSES HAVOC IN A TOWN.

Four People Are Killed in the Accident—House Mowed Down Like Grass.

SPOKANE, Wash., June 22.—One of the strangest railroad wrecks in the history of the Northwest took place on the Spokane Falls and Northern Railway, a part of the Great Northern system, a little before daybreak this morning, a short distance from the center of the city, when a runaway train of sixty or more loaded cars, without an engine, rushed four miles down grade through town, demolishing a dwelling house, wrecking a laundry, killing at least four people, injuring eight others and piling up a tangled mass of debris nearly fifty feet high.

The dead: WILLIAM THOMAS, workman. ELMER SLEE, 9 years of age. Two unidentified men.

Nearly every car was heavily loaded with soft coal. These cars were coupled together and left standing on the old Spokane Falls and Northern lines, now used as a storage track.

From Hilliard a long grade slope runs down to Division street in Spokane, four miles away. About 3:30 o'clock this morning, the heavy train began to slide slowly down the grade. Gaining momentum rapidly, it was soon rushing through the city with tremendous speed. Every switch was clear and nothing impeded the progress of the runaway train until it struck an empty box car near the old San Francisco and Northern depot.

In this car were Thomas and another man, supposed to have been a tramp, sleeping.

Shoving this car ahead of it as a bumper, the runaway train swept on to Division street. Here the track ended, but the train punted forward, crossing the street, running over a rock pile and swinging along the south side of Harrison avenue. Nearly 300 feet from the end of the track stood a six-room house, occupied by the families of John Slee and Mrs. Myers. Striking the house squarely in the center, the flying train smashed it to kindling wood. Still rushing forward, the cars tore over the rough ground for 200 feet farther, striking the frame building occupied by the Crystal Steam Laundry. This was mowed bodily, being shoved three or four feet west. Here the runaway had spent its force.

Nine people were sleeping in the Slee house when the train struck it. James Slee, the father, was mowed out of the ruins practically uninjured. The dead body of his son, James, was found near by. Of the three children of Mrs. Myers, who were sleeping in the house, only one was injured. Not far from the house were found the bodies of Thomas and his companion. They had been carried nearly 100 feet from the place where their box car was struck. Another body was still in the ruins at the latest reports.

So tremendous was the force of the runaway train that when it left the tracks and plunged across Division streets, wheels and axles were thrown a hundred feet. Nearly thirty cars are piled up in a mass of wreckage fifty feet high at Division street.

RESPONSIBILITY IS NOT PLACED.

North Shore Wreck is Being Fully Investigated.

Another One of the Injured is Likely to Die.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—The responsibility for the North Shore wreck had not been fixed this afternoon. Charles Orth, who was the engineer in charge of the funeral train, is an old railroad man.

He was in charge of a locomotive on the Alameda local train for a number of years.

The Southern Pacific Company discharged him for carelessness in permitting the boiler of his engine to "scorch."

Orth had entered the employ of the North Shore road but recently, and, according to his own statement, was making his second trip over the road from Point Reyes to Sausalito.

He tells the officials of the road that he was running twenty miles an hour. Passengers on the train declare that the speed was much greater.

Fireman Milton G. Sheets says that he was standing behind Orth and trying to warn him of the dangerous points along the road, and intimates that little heed was paid to what he said.

General Manager Rank of the North Shore line, who is investigating the matter, declares that if any of the operatives was responsible, it could have been none other than Orth, whose ability as an engineer, however, he praises.

Dr. R. W. Smith of 1515 Divisadero street, one of the most seriously injured, is at the Lane Hospital, where it is feared he will die.

So anxious are the surgeons and physicians in attendance upon him that they declare they cannot as yet hazard an opinion upon the outcome of his case.

He sustained a fracture of one arm and two ribs, was hurt internally and is also suffering from injuries to his spine.

It is believed that all the others will recover.

DID NOT TAKE A SHOT AT THE CZAR.

CZAR OF RUSSIA.

Detective's Pistol Accidentally Discharged as the Ruler Passed.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 22.—Officials of both the court and ministry of the interior say the reports that an attempt was recently made on the life of the Czar are untrue. A story was circulated a month ago that the Czar had been fired upon while driving in the park of Tsarskoe-Selo, but it was discovered that it originated in the accidental discharge of a revolver, which was carelessly dropped by the detective as the Czar's carriage passed.

THREE KILLED IN WRECK IN NORTH

LOADED FREIGHT CARS RUN AWAY AND GET ON MAIN LINE IN EAST.

DENVER, June 22.—A special to the Post from Rawlins, Wyo., says:

A wreck that snuffed out the lives of three men occurred on Greenville Hill, four miles east of here, at an early hour this morning. The dead are FRANK McGRATH, brakeman, Laraine, and CHARLES FRAZELL, fireman, Laraine.

Unknown tramp. Fatally injured.

HARRY BAKER, engineer.

The accident was caused by the right loaded cars getting away in the Rawlins yard and dashing out on the main line, where they collided with an extra freight in charge of Conductor Simpson.

The heavy steel coal cars crashed through the box cars of the freight and smashed six of them into kindling wood, making a pile of debris that delayed traffic several hours.

Engineer Baker, Fireman Frazell, Brakeman McGrath and the tramp were on the engine of the extra, and all were buried under the wreckage.

FRUITVALE PRECINCT NO. 4 WANTS LOCAL-OPTION.

James Coates Must Prove That He Has Legal Number of Signers to Saloon Petition.

At the meeting of the Board of Supervisors this morning, quite an amount of time was devoted to the consideration of liquor topics.

LOCAL OPTION PROTEST.
A protest was filed against the granting of liquor licenses in Precinct No. 4, Fruitvale. This was signed by about 200 names of people in the precinct, who claimed to represent a majority of the voters of the place.
This protest was made under the new license ordinance. Before any saloon license can now be granted in that district, the applicant for such license must file a petition signed by the names of more legal residents and voters than appear upon the protest. The protest was placed on file.

OBJECT TO COATES.
The protest against the granting of a saloon license to James Coates, at the southwest corner of Fremont avenue and East Fourteenth street, then came up for hearing. It was based on the ground that the applicant had not complied with the law in filing his application; that the saloon was close to the Dewey school and that the neighborhood was now as well as need be supplied with drinking places. The protest was signed by Ole Olsen and several other residents of the vicinity.
The protest against the granting of the license to Coates was in favor of the protest and against the saloon. He said that the building in which the saloon was located gave evidence of being

WILL TEST NEW DIVORCE LAW IN SUPREME COURT.

Oakland Lawyers Will See That the Issue Goes to the Highest Court.

The fact that Superior Judge Seawell of San Francisco has rendered a decision taking the same view of the new divorce law as Judge A. L. Rhodes of San Jose, who has declared it to be unconstitutional, has added to the discussion of the question by attorneys in this city, and many of them have stated that in cases that come to them involving this point they are going to take advantage of it in an endeavor to free their clients finally from distasteful life partners with the privilege of marrying again as soon as another can be found.
It is understood that arrangements are being made by the attorneys interested in the cases in which Judges Rhodes and Seawell rendered their decisions to take one of them up to the Supreme Court immediately as a test case, when it is believed that the law will be declared unconstitutional.
In this event the divorce law which will be in effect will be the general law which prevailed before the amendments, relating to the one-year clauses, and divorces will be at liberty to immediately remarry upon being granted a decree.

COUNTY CHILDREN 45,587.

SCHOOL POPULATION SHOWN BY LATE CENSUS TO BE 35,063.

The result of the school census in the county of Alameda, as shown in the report of the County Superintendent of Schools to the Board of Supervisors this morning, is as follows: Number of children of school age in county, 45,587; white, 34,748; black, 258; white boys, 17,450; white girls, 17,298; black boys, 146; black girls, 197. These are over 5 but not over 17 years of age. The school population by school districts, white and black, is as follows:

Alameda, 4,238; Alvarado, 130; Altio, 71; Arroyo Valley, 1; Bay, 317; Berkeley, 20,844; Castro Valley, 81; Centerville, 224; Decato, 184; Eden Vale, 21; Elmhurst, 253; Emeryville, 201; Eureka, 62; Fruitvale, 33; Green, 33; Harris, 7; Hays, 17; Highland, 7; Independent, 57; Inman, 89; Laceron, 15; Laurel, 518; Lincoln, 141; Livermore, 492; Lockwood, 253; May 30, 18,000; 186; Midway, 3; Mission San Jose, 135; Mocho, 10; Mountain House, 11; Mowbr's Landing, 21; Murray, 67; Newark, 140; Niles, 175; Oakland, 12,567; Gilroy, 3; Polmar, 47; Pleasanton, 330; Redwood, 30; Roseville, 3; Russell, 33; San Lorenzo, 234; Stony Brook, 18; Summit, 9; Sheridan, 49; Sunol Glen, 85; Union, 60; Townsend, 50; Union, 753; Vallejo, 23; Valle Vista, 13; Vista, 45; Warm Springs, 118; Washington, 170.
The number of children between the ages mentioned who attended public schools at any time during the year was 25,191; those who attended private schools numbered 2,716, and those who attended no school were 7,680.
The statistics are as follows: Children under 5 years of age, 10,524, made up as follows: White, 10,410; negro, 75; Indian, 39; Mongolian, 30; natives, 44,711; foreign, 518; 4,587; deaf, 60; not vaccinated, 10,233.

INJUNCTION IS NOW DISSOLVED.

RICHMOND, Va., June 22.—In the Chancery Court today Judge Grinnan dissolved the injunction restraining the United States Government from taking possession of the cruiser Galveston. The Federal Government stipulates that the ship shall remain the property of the United States until the case is determined by the court of highest resort. The Galveston will be launched this week.

CAUSE OF THE WRECK NOT KNOWN.

Engineer Said Never to Have Been Over the Road.

Judge Angelotti's Escape Is Considered Marvelous.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—The causes of the wreck of a funeral car on the North Shore railroad which caused the death of A. Roman and Michael Kirk and injured more than a score of others, has not yet been definitely determined.
The trouble over which the car was precipitated, was on a sharp curve and the engineer is said to have never been over the road before.
There is a report that the coupling pin between the engine and tender broke, but this has not been verified. Two or three of those injured are in a critical condition but no further deaths have been reported.
The escape of Justice Angelotti of the Supreme Court is considered marvelous.
He was severely bruised, but his injuries are not considered serious.

SHE REFUSED TO KISS HIM

LULU JOHNSON CLIMBED OVER BACK FENCE IN HER NIGHT ROBE TO ESCAPE EDDIE.

Because Lulu Johnson, colored, refused to kiss Ed Ellis good-night, the latter lost his temper and kicked down the door of the young woman's room at the home of Mrs. S. K. Anderson, 832 Wood street. As a result, he was arrested for malicious mischief as was John Goran, who is said to have assisted Ellis in kicking down the door.
When the door flew into splinters, Miss Johnson, who was in bed at the time, hastily grabbed up her skirt and without waiting to dress jumped out of the window, climbed over the back fence and dressed herself in a neighbor's yard.
According to the woman's statements, she has been living with Ellis but left him after a quarrel and went to live with Mrs. Anderson. Ellis, in company with Goran, called last night to see his former friend, but she had retired. Ellis then demanded that she kiss him good-night, and when she refused his well-directed kick broke down the door and the lady had left.
The cases will come up tomorrow in the Police Court.

NEW BOULEVARD WILL BE VERY EXPENSIVE.

Supervisors Estimates Place Cost, Building, Grading, Etc. at About $225,000.

There was an informal discussion this morning behind closed doors by the Supervisors in conjunction with the viewers of the proposed new road between Oakland and Hayward, regarding the building of that road.
It developed the fact that the thoroughfare, as proposed, would be an expensive improvement, costing probably in the neighborhood of $250,000.
The conference took place at the instance of the viewers, who, before starting out to secure right of way and to assess the damages, desired to ascertain the wishes of the Board of Supervisors as regards the width and other features of the proposed road.
This information, the viewers said, they should possess so as to be able to enlighten the people along the line of the proposed thoroughfare as to what might be expected from them in the way of assistance and encouragement.
All the Supervisors save Mr. Ditchell were present.
Mr. Horner knew little of the new departure, because he was not at the last meeting of the Board when the subject was introduced.
No definite idea was entertained by any of the Supervisors to the width or any other feature of the road. It was generally admitted, however, the project would be an expensive one and would cost not far from $225,000.
The meeting adjourned, however, for a week and in the meantime, the Supervisors will endeavor to agree upon some idea as to the width, and kind of roadway, curb and gutters, whether street cars can be eliminated, and other essentials which will have some bearing on the project.
Supervisor Horner said that the road would cost $12,000 per mile. The County Surveyor Prather remarked that it would probably cost as much as that.
Supervisor Rowe said he did not think it would cost so much and he believed a great deal of the right of way would be granted.
Supervisor Horner held that the building of the road without the grading would cost $12,000 per mile. The road would be ten miles long, which would make that item alone $120,000. Grading would cost $1,000 per mile. That would increase the cost to $130,000 exclusive of the curbing and gutters and the cost of securing right of way.
Supervisor Kelley was of the opinion that a great deal of the right-of-way would have to be purchased and with the other expenses, the cost would be very heavy.
Supervisor Talcott said that the cost of the road was the very first thing that should be determined.
At the close of the conference Supervisor Kelley said that $225,000 was too much to expend in one district for a road, move especially where in some parts of the same district there were side roads which were in a poor condition. In Supervisor Rowe's district, too, he declared, that there were stretches of road on which some money should be expended.
Supervisor Rowe after the conference said that under a law passed at the last session of the Legislature there was authority for taking the cost of a road which was more than three miles in length out of the General Road Fund. It was in this way that this road, if built, would be constructed, the tax being levied against the whole county.
At the next meeting the Supervisors will know what kind of road they will favor.

AN INCREASE OF PAY GRANTED LABORER INJURED AT SELBY PASSES AWAY AT FABIOLA.

Postmaster T. T. Dargie has received word from the department at Washington that Oakland will be entitled to three additional letter carriers, beginning the first day of July. He has also been informed by the department that the letter carriers who have been in the service for two years or more will hereafter receive $1000 per year instead of $850. Those who have been in the service less than two years will receive $800 per annum.
Mr. Dargie feels that Oakland has not a sufficient number of carriers to handle the business, and he has sent a strong request to the department at Washington asking that the city be given ten additional letter carriers, in order that the territory may be covered properly. He asks for this increase in letter carriers owing to the increase in population in Oakland during the past two years, as shown by the letter carriers' census.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

GENERAL MILES STANDS BY HIS GUNS.

He Does Not Want Any Misconstruction Placed on His Report to the President.

General Nelson A. Miles has caused to be published in the Army and Navy Register the following:

"Dear Sir: Referring to my reports as presented in your issue of May 2nd, you will understand how one might seriously and rightly object to having a communication published in part with some vital portions omitted. When that is done, it is impossible to appreciate the relative bearing of certain portions, and the writer is liable to be misrepresented and the reader to be misled. In your journal no reference was made to my order of November 28, 1902, which formed a part of my report.

It is proper to say that I want to the Philippine Islands not as a "tourist," but in an official capacity. Paragraph 205 of Army Regulations reads as follows:

"The military establishment is under the orders of the commanding general of the army in that which pertains to its discipline and military control."

Moreover, the instructions addressed to me as Lieutenant-General "commanding the army" came from the highest authority, viz., the President, in which I was directed to give special attention to the "instruction, discipline and supplies of the army." In route I visited several military stations in this country and inspected the entire Pacific Coast defenses, including every gun, mortar, magazine and garrison.

I went very thoroughly over the Philippine Islands, visiting all the principal garrisons, seeing nearly all the troops, complimenting them in person and in my official report.

"The idea that I was governed by prejudice in any way is as idle as it is untrue. However, certain facts came to my knowledge from officers of rank and experience, as well as from prominent citizens, relating to offenses that I had never heard of before; and I found an impression existed in the minds of some that certain acts that have been prohibited in our army were justifiable, and the plea of 'not guilty' to offenses that had been committed were sustained on the ground that they were committed under instructions or in accordance with certain written and verbal orders. I therefore deemed it my duty to rescind any orders that might convey such dangerous and erroneous impressions, and directed that the order above referred to be issued. It reads as follows:

"Headquarters of the Army, Manila, P. I., November 28, 1902. 'The Commanding General, Division of the Philippines, Manila, P. I.—Sir: The Lieutenant-General commanding the army directs me to inform you that his attention having been called to matters concerning the instruction and discipline of the troops, it has come to his knowledge that certain methods have been used to extort information from Filipinos in the custody of the military, and that other acts have been committed which are not in accordance with the rules of civilized warfare and are detrimental to the honor and discipline of the army. The misconstruing and adroit misinterpretation of orders may be as injurious to the service as a wanton disregard of them.

"The evil methods above referred to are most injurious to the service, whether designedly or inadvertently, followed, and the practice of such unauthorized and unwarranted acts tends to give the junior officers and soldiers of the army an impression that such acts are justifiable and customary in civilized warfare. In order to correct such a dangerous and injurious impression, and that there may be no misunderstanding in the future, the Lieutenant-General directs that any orders, circulars or personal instructions, or any parts thereof, from whatever source, that suggest, inspire, encourage or permit any acts of cruelty and unwarlike severity be annulled, canceled and rescinded, and such acts are hereby strictly prohibited. Acts of retaliation can only be authorized by the highest military authorities, and then should only be resorted to as measures for the safety of an army.

"The attention of your entire command is directed to paragraph 16, general orders, No. 100, War Department, A. G. O., April 24, 1883, which will be strictly complied with.

"The excuse that the unusual conditions justify the measures herein condemned is without foundation and cannot prevail. The Lieutenant-General is gratified to know that a very great many officers of the army, including yourself, of high rank, great experience and most commendable records, as well as those occupying subordinate positions, with their commands, have, in the prosecution of hostilities in the Philippines, effectively conducted their military operations without resorting to any of the methods prohibited by the rules of civilized warfare, and attained the best results, thereby reflecting the highest credit and honor upon themselves, their commands, the army and the nation.

"It is the duty of the army to preserve unimpaired the high character it has attained for more than a century, and it is gratifying to know that a majority of the officers and soldiers have upheld that standard under all circumstances. I have the honor to be, very respectfully,

"MARION P. MAUS, Lieutenant-Colonel, Aide-de-Camp."

It will be observed that no names were mentioned, but subsequent correspondence required a special report, which was accordingly made.

The object of the order was not only to rescind any injurious orders that might have been issued, either verbal or written, but to prevent the possibility of the commission of any such offenses in the future. You will also observe that the order does not criticize or condemn the acts of a single American soldier.

During the eight years that I have occupied my present position, I have issued but few orders of a general character, and those had for their object the general welfare of the army. No one can have a more sacred regard for its honor than myself.

The officers of the law who arrested, tried, convicted and executed a therefore honored member of the faculty of Harvard College who had committed a great crime, nor was the honor of that institution in any way impaired by the punishment of an unworthy professor. The authorities who prosecuted and condemned Tweed and his associates were not accounted the enemies of New York or of those who "smirched its honor." The Postoffice officials who are now investigating alleged offenses are not enemies of the administration or of the department.

In the greatest and bloodiest of all wars, covering four years and in which were engaged three millions of brave men, I never heard of a single case of human torture and those who falsely assert that it was practiced insult all those who wore the blue and the gray.

For a hundred years the army has been waging war against savage Indians and there is no namable atrocity that at some time some Indians did not commit—but retaliation in kind and violence towards captive and surrendered Indians have always been prohibited.

It is idle to assume that campaigning in the Philippines has conditions that warrant resort to medieval cruelty and a departure from the honorable method of conducting warfare, and that such departures have existed should be overlooked and condoned.

It is most gratifying that the serious offenses have not been committed by the soldiers, unless they were under the direct orders of certain officers who were responsible. Soldiers have withstood fire when ordered to shoot prisoners, protested against acts of cruelty and writ-

A FUNERAL INTERRUPTED.

NEW YORK, June 22.—Telephone messages sent by Coroner Scherer of this city, to Passaic have presented the internment of the body of Mrs. Cora Snyder, a music teacher, and set the New Jersey town in an uproar. Mrs. Snyder for the last year had lived at the home of a prominent politician, where she was housekeeper and governess of the politician's daughter. Her death occurred last Friday at the apartment of a midwife in this city. Her child also died. Until the interrupted funeral it was supposed in Passaic that appendicitis was the cause of Mrs. Snyder's death. On receipt of Dr. Scherer's telephone message, the Passaic authorities took immediate action. The county physician, Dr. E. J. O'Brien, the local undertaker who had charge of the funeral to stop the proceedings. In order to prevent a sensation Dr. McBride decided to allow the funeral to take place and to right the coffin in the grave. It was announced that it would be kept temporarily in a vault, owing to the water in the grave. The mourners departed without the suspension of the state of affairs. As soon as the last of the carriages had disappeared the undertaker took the body out of the vault and it was taken back to his mortuary.

Pending the result of an autopsy the authorities have taken no official action.

AFFAIRS IN PERU.
NEW YORK, June 22.—The Government is taking active measures to prevent any disorder in connection with the opening of Congress, says a Herald dispatch from Lima, Peru. A proclamation has been issued by President Candamo. Apparently the Government has sufficient force to maintain order. The Government has decided to secure on a three years' contract a geologist from the United States or Europe to study the fossil formations of Peru.

BLIND ESCAPE INJURY.

THE WORKSHOP AT THE HOME COLLAPSED YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

With the creaking of timbers, a final crash and then a great cloud of dust, a portion of the old workshop at the Home of the Adult Blind, at the corner of Telegraph avenue and Thirty-sixth street, collapsed yesterday afternoon. Fortunately none of the inmates of the home were in the building at the time it fell and no injury followed the occurrence other than that to the building itself and some material stored there. A section, 40x40 feet, is flat upon the ground.

"We hardly know what we will do," said Superintendent Saunders of the home. "The section of the building that collapsed was used for the storing of broomcorn, and there was about twenty-five tons of material in it. It was also used for a shipping room, and in the daytime on working days there were usually three or four men therein all the time and others passing in and out. It has caused no little inconvenience and some loss of material to us and it emphasizes the necessity for a new workshop."

The fact that the day was Sunday in all probability accounts for the fact that the collapse of the old structure was not attended with loss of life. At the last two or three sessions of the Legislature an appropriation has been made to secure a new workshop at this institution. These appropriations have been varying degrees of failure. Sometimes the appropriation was killed by the Legislature and sometimes it got as far as the Governor, where it met final death. It has been planned over and over again that the old workshop was insufficient in size, was unsanitary, and was worst of all, unsafe for the blind men who work therein to secure a few of the necessities of their darkened lives.

The proof of these arguments occurred yesterday when a section of the building fell in. The fall was gradual. First the underlying gave way, then the walls fell out, and in a few moments the ground of the building was flat upon the ground.

DELEGATE RE-ELECTED.

NEW YORK, June 22.—Slow progress has been made in the counting of ballots cast for officers of the House and another day is likely to pass before it can be known with certainty what was the result in the case of Samuel Parks, the walking delegate and a candidate for re-election, who is under indictment on the charge of torturing money from employers in consideration of calling strikes off. As the count stands thus far, however, there is little doubt of Parks' re-election.

NEW YORK, June 22.—Financing a subject for a sermon in the strike of the building trades, the Rev. Robert S. MacArthur, preaching in Calvary Baptist Church said:

"Strikes ought to be obsolete. They belong to the medieval and barbarous ages. Time has passed, the golden age of civilization and arbitration. Time has come when the pulpit and the press must lift their united voices in the best interests of the working man. We must insist on the preservation of law and order. Let men have the right to strike if in doing so they violate no contract. We all admit they have this right provided other men are not prevented from taking the work which they refuse to do."

"As a friend of labor I lift up my voice in favor of arbitration. The labor union that refuses to arbitrate the case implies its side is weak. It is possible for the labor unions to fill the goose that laid the golden egg. They may increase with America's industrial supremacy in the world. We must beg all workmen and employers to act according to the Golden Rule, which is as necessary to success in trade as essential to progress in religion."

GOVERNMENT IRRIGATION IN NEVADA.

An esteemed California contemporary presents Lake Tahoe to the Government of the United States for the benefit of the State of Nevada. This generosity comes late, since it is the latest determination of the engineers in charge of the surveys relating to the irrigation works for the reclamation of the Truckee basin, to abandon the idea of using Lake Tahoe as a reservoir.

What is proposed is to impound the waters of the Truckee at places along the course of that river above the point at which the water will be diverted toward the Carson sink. The engineers found the prospective use of the lake to present many complications. The outlet to the Lake, where the impounding works would have to be located, is in private ownership, and an accommodation between the owners and the Government has not been reached. Wharves have been constructed in the lake which will become useless either by raising or lowering the flood maximums or minimums of that body of water. Many houses have been constructed at low levels, and private property generally is menaced by the proposed use of the lake as a reservoir.

Its conversion, therefore, into a source of water supply, has proven to be costly, and all cost incurred in the construction of irrigation systems must be borne by the irrigators who will ultimately own and cultivate the land.

The greatest difficulty to be apprehended in the development of irrigation systems will be found in the fact that large areas of irrigable land cannot be immediately taken. Homesteaders will come slowly at first, and where a body of land is laid subject to irrigation, comprising from 1000 to 3000 homestead claims, it is scarcely to be expected that all will be taken, occupied and irrigated, and by that means become contributors to the reimbursement of the Government in many years. We are coming into closer view of the practical difficulties which lie in the way of the complete accomplishment of what is sought by the Government, but these difficulties are by no means insurmountable, and while the full ideal of the act may never be realized a very large benefit will certainly accrue.

The news that Powell Clayton, United States Minister to Mexico, has endorsed President Roosevelt for a second term is not important. The announcement that President Roosevelt had endorsed Mr. Clayton for another term would be of interest. A good many Americans having large interests in Mexico think Mr. Clayton can serve his country better as a private citizen of Arkansas than as Minister to Mexico. Hence Mr. Clayton's wild acclaim from Anahua for Roosevelt.

INTELLECTUAL LIMITATIONS OF THE NEGRO RACE.

For three hundred years, the negroes of America have been in contact with Anglo-Saxon civilization. In other countries they have been in contact and under the influence of other civilization. There has been a close intimacy between the white and the black race at all times under the relation of master and slave. This relation is very intimate. In a condition of slavery to which the slave consents, the influence of the civilized conditions surrounding the latter can not do otherwise than impart to him the development of his intellectual and moral faculties. Minds are educated by the things with which they come in contact. Hence the condition of slavery was no bar, to a certain degree at least, of intellectual development.

The negro has been engaged in industrial pursuits, has handled the tools of industry and the labor-saving machinery, as invention has brought this machinery into existence. The division line between man and animals is drawn at a point where the hand is supplemented and extended through the use of the implement directed by the mind. At this point of supplementing the hand by the implement, the mind begins to perform a part of the labor. All implements and all machinery measure the potency of mind. The steamship with all its vast burden bearing capacity, is the product of thought. Every wheel that turns upon the steel tracks of the railroads or the shifting of the manufactory revolves in obedience to the human will. The negro has been the user of all this supplemental force, and is not credited with a single invention.

Passing the field of invention, the negro has seemed to possess a high musical faculty in which the element of time is a paramount feature. Rhythm belongs to the most primitive stage of musical development. The negro has manifested mechanical musical faculty, and has become proficient on all musical instruments but he has never invented a musical instrument or been the author of a musical composition. Beyond the simplest variation of from three to five notes of the musical scale, his power of musical originality appears to be rigidly limited to a sense of melody.

In brief, among the millions of negroes whose imitative musical faculty should have ripened into some capacity of originality, there is not to be found a single musical composer worthy of this title.

The art faculty which finds very early manifestation in the primitive condition of the white race, appears to be wholly absent in the negro. No negro has ever painted a picture, carved a statue or made a drawing which would indicate the presence of even the germ of an art faculty.

Literature is the expression of the life and aspiration of man. No negro has ever written anything amounting to the most primitive beginnings of poetry, fiction, history, travel or essay. It has been claimed for the negro that his temperament is essentially religious. Sorcery is the beginning of theology, and fetish worship the incipient stage of religious aspiration. Except in an imitative way, the negro has not passed the stage of sorcery and fetish worship. No negro has ever written a work on theology, nor so far as is known, attempted such writing. The fervor of negro preaching is proverbial, but it is utterly wanting in originality. Devoted as the negro may be to religion, no negro has been the originator of a theological system or the founder of a sect.

There are some twelve millions of negroes in the United States, the descendants of hundreds of millions who have gone before, and among them all there is not one inventor, one painter, one sculptor, one artist, one writer, one theologian or one single scientist. The world has not been enriched by one single scientific discovery ever made by a negro.

It is not a sufficient answer to say that the negro has been enslaved. Slavery would not have wholly suppressed the manifestation of some of these faculties, had they existed. So far as can be traced, even in the incipient beginnings of the Caucasian race, even in its most barbarous stage, the primitive stages of all these intellectual manifestations have been apparent.

Civilization in a race depends upon the genius of that race for government. Civilization is primarily the art of living together. Orderly society being established, the intellectual faculties of man are immediately expanded. Social and civil order is the stalk which bears the bloom of art with its aroma of painting, sculpture, music and poetry.

The character, the thought and the aspiration of man are formed by the things with which they come in contact, and the negro has been in contact with a very high state of development of these nobler fruits of human intelligence. That this contact has not produced the slightest indication of the existence of even the germ of this higher intelligence, is evidence of their total absence.

Education may develop the faculties of the mind; but the germ condition of these faculties must exist before education can act upon it. The horticulturist may bring a peach to the highest state of perfection, but he cannot take the germ of a peach and develop an orange. Inherent attributes are nature's endowment; education may enlarge and develop them, but their creation is far beyond its power.

These obvious considerations lead to the conclusion of the inherent racial inferiority of the negro. If the twelve millions of negroes in the United States were divorced from all contact with white civilization, it is even more than probable they would lapse into original barbarism. The civilization which they manifest is not inherent. The civilized condition of which they seem to be partakers would disappear, and this because the degree to which they are civilized did not grow out of themselves; it had an external source. An oak cannot be said to grow oranges simply because the oranges were stuck in its boughs, and in like manner, the civilized condition to which the negro appears to have arisen was not self-generated and is, therefore, not self-sustaining.

All this is very far from saying that the negro is not possessed of natural civil and social rights. The natural rights of man are not to be measured by the degree of his intellectual capacity. An ignorant man has the same right of self-ownership which belongs to the most learned. The question of the natural right of the negro does not come within the purview of this writing, but this presentation clearly demonstrates to the open mind the insurmountable difficulties of the race problem.

Booker T. Washington, who evidently inherited some of the philosophical temperament of his white father, has indicated the intellectual limitations of the negro by declaring that it is not scholarship or other enlargement of being that should be conferred, but merely improved capacity for manual labor. Washington apparently entertains no hope for the higher development of the race. He is not seeking to make scholars, poets, writers, artists or inventors; what he asks is that the negro shall avail himself of whatever intellectual capacity he possesses to become a better farmer, a better bricklayer, a better carpenter. In brief, Mr. Washington desires to utilize the small intellectual faculties of the negro as a supplement to his muscular capacity. He seeks to make the negro more self-directing in the performance of labor, but he has expressed no hope or indicated no expectation beyond this.

The aim of the matter is that the destiny of the negro is in the hands of the white race. He has no self-directing independent future.

The czar has the right to take presents from whom he chooses, but when he accepts one from a notorious Jew, bailed under circumstances which indicate the sender's motive, he cannot blame people for construing his act as an expression of sympathy with the anti-Jewish crusade. It will be so construed by his subjects, who are quick to take a hint of this character, and the result will not be to make the position of the Jews in Russia pleasant. If the czar's recently announced intention to protect the Jews was meant in good faith, he has discredited it in public estimation by receiving a present that is sent as a token of a different sentiment.

While no sympathy can be felt with the desire of Walkirez to have his wretched paramour share his punishment, there is a feeling in the community that justice will be cheated if the woman is permitted to get off scot-free. But if there is no law under which she can be punished there's an end to the matter. The woman admits that she witnessed the crime and shared in its proceeds. Although she finally told the story to the police, she held her peace till after Walkirez had deserted her. She was clearly an accessory after the fact, as was the Cochran woman. In some States this constitutes a crime.

TO BE FREE.
To be free, to be free from the bondage of form,
From the fetters of shallow pretense,
From the outbursts that bind us in him-bred sin,
And hedge us about as a fence!
From the dlatior and pater of gossiping tongues
With nothing for you and for me,
From people whose thinkers are lost in their lungs
It is, oh, to be free, to be free!

My lady, whose motives are really the best,
In a deed of compassion would move,
But she first must apply the ultimate test:
Would dear Madam Grindy approve?
If she should she should, that gown she'll wear?
And who shall be present to see?
And are you quite certain that no one would care?
And it's oh, that my lady were free!

The parson, full godly—I snow him quite well—
Would lift up the host of mankind,
Of the Nazarene's love his hearers would tell,
And the wounds of the fallen would bind;
But the deacons, you know, the pillars of church,
His patrons, have notions, and he must heed them or, hopeless, be left in the lurch—
And it's oh, that the parson were free.

The poet with a heart like a spirit of fire,
Would whisper the message of God: Let him shrub with hunger, with penury,
And walk as in poverty's shod. Or, grown worldly wise, he shall write platitudes,
The jingles and tickles we see, And read if we happen to feel in the mood,
And it's oh, that the poet were free.

The fetters of fashion, the bondage of form,
The chains that we bind on the soul,
No fallen they lift, and no heart do they warm,
Yet to them we offer our toil.
The true man is hidden, the false is displayed;
I smile, and you smile upon me; We barter our souls, and worry's the trade—
And it's oh, that we all might be free!

WM. T. HAMILTON CALLED BY DEATH.

Pioneer and Prominent Mason Answers Last Call.

Funeral Will be Held From Masonic Temple Tomorrow.

William T. Hamilton, former Coroner of Alameda county, pioneer of this State and prominent member of the Masonic order died at his home, 461 Vernon street, yesterday morning. A year ago he was stricken with paralysis and he has been ill ever since.

Mr. Hamilton was born May 1, 1838, at Bloomington, Ill. His parents were John and Phoebe Hamilton of Virginia. In early life Mr. Hamilton gained a smattering of books in an old log cabin schoolhouse and finished his schooling at the Baptist College in Pekin, Ill.

In 1857 he crossed the plains with a herd of cattle, their brand being the Masonic insignia of the square and compass. Settling in Colusa county Mr. Hamilton remained a year and went on a mining expedition during the Fraser River (B. C.) excitement of 1858. After his return to Colusa he opened a blacksmith shop, working at that trade until 1866, going thence to Sierra valley, Sierra county, and staying there until he came to Oakland in 1870, where he engaged in the undertaking business.

Mr. Hamilton was elected Coroner of Alameda county in 1873 and served continuously for ten years. He married Miss Letta Myers of Colusa in 1865. Mrs. Hamilton, with his wife and adopted daughter, Viola Hamilton, made a tour of the world.

In 1897 Mr. Hamilton was raised to the degree of Master Mason in Sierra Valley Lodge, No. 184, F. and A. M. He affiliated with Oakland Lodge, No. 188, in 1876, and served as Junior deacon and steward, and as a member of that lodge. In Royal Arch Masonry Mr. Hamilton was given his degree in Donner Chapter, No. 89, at Truckee, his uniting with Oakland Chapter, No. 26, in 1885. He received the degree of royal and select master June 15, 1888, in Oakland Council, No. 12, R. and S. M. Mr. Hamilton was a member of Oakland Commandery, No. 11, Knights Templar, was a thirty-third degree Scottish Rite Mason, affiliated with Oakland Chapter of Perfection No. 2, Gethsemane Chapter of Rose Croix, No. 2, Chapter of De Molay Council, Knights of Kadosh, No. 2, and was treasurer in 1897-98 of Oakland Consistory. He was elected knight commander of the court of honor in 1897. On February 4, 1900, Mr. Hamilton received the thirty-third degree of the Scottish Rite, and was promoted to the rank of Inspector general. He was an active member of the Masonic Veterans' Association.

Mr. Hamilton was also a member of Oakland Lodge, No. 118, I. O. O. F., and Oakland Lodge, No. 2, Ancient Order United Workmen.

For a number of years Mr. Hamilton was a member of the firm of Hamilton & Brown, undertakers, which business Brown conducted until the senior partner's death. By thrift and industry Mr. Hamilton amassed a competency. Of late years he lived quietly in the enjoyment of good health until he was stricken with paralysis. Surviving him are his wife and adopted daughter, three sisters in the East, and two nephews, W. T. Wilkins and Robert T. Wilkins.

The funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Masonic Temple. All of the Masonic and other fraternal organizations with which the departed pioneer has been affiliated will take part in the services.

THE SECRET DIED WITH HIM.

When Abram S. Hewitt died last January there died with him, unless the giver himself chooses to make it known, the secret of the name of the donor of the one-fourth million dollars which was given to Cooper Union last year. The money was given to the trustees of the building without tenants, devoting it entirely to the purposes of education, in accordance with Peter Cooper's fondest wish.

At the forty-fourth annual meeting of the union on Friday night, Edward R. Hewitt, Mr. Hewitt's son, in his report as treasurer formally listed the gift as coming from an anonymous donor among the institution's extraordinary receipts for the year ending last December. Mr. Hewitt made no further reference to the matter from the platform, but he said afterward:

"This is the same one-fourth million dollar gift to which my father made reference in his remarks at the commencement of the union a year ago, when he said that a gentleman whom he had long known had called upon him and after a chat and a cup of tea had handed him a check for this amount, saying that he did not want to have his name mentioned in connection with the gift."

My father promised him that he would respect the donor's wish and he kept the secret of the giver's identity so religiously that he never told any of the other trustees or any of his family. To all practical purposes the secret died with him.

"So far as the trustees are concerned we have made no effort to find out the name of the man who made so large a contribution to Cooper Union and we don't want to know it. We are content with the money."

"Doubtless the man who gave the one-fourth million dollars had good reasons for not wanting his name made public and we believe that those reasons should be respected. So, unless the donor himself chooses to make his identity known at some future time, which would scarcely seem likely under the circumstances—the name of the giver will never be known to anyone but himself."—New York Sun.

FIVE DOUBLE STARS FOUND BY ASTRONOMERS.

Scientists at Lick Observatory Make Important Discoveries With Spectograph.

BERKELEY, June 22.—Five double stars have just been added to the list of known binaries by the astronomers of the Lick Observatory. The discoveries, which are of great scientific value, were made by Director W. W. Campbell and Dr. H. D. Curtis, who have reported their important work to the University of California, of which the station at Mt. Hamilton is a part. By means of some of the most wonderful astronomical computations these men have been able to learn of the existence of some stars invisible to the most powerful lenses. This has been accomplished by noting the actions of other stars to which these recently discovered are companions. Not only have the astronomers been able to definitely locate the invisible heavenly bodies, but they have also been able to learn something of their history and to trace their course. On first observation it has been impossible in many cases to tell whether a star was alone or whether it was accompanied by some other body which rotates about it and follows it in its orbit. The only way to determine the existence or non-existence of the invisible star has been to take observations on the star which can be seen. This had led to some of the most delicate calculations, out of which have grown the discoveries which will prove of great value to the scientific world. Most of this important work has been carried on by means of the Lick spectrophotograph, attached to the 36-inch telescope, by which the spectra of the bright stars are measured. If a bright star in its path through the solar system is not uniform in its speed, it is evident that it is under the influence of some companion star. On one night a bright star will be seen approaching the solar system, and a few nights later it will be seen in a different part of the orbit, receding from the solar system. The number of such systems discovered by the scientists at Mt. Hamilton in the last five years has been forty-seven, of which five are the

BONNHHEIM PRIZE IS COVETED.

STUDENTS BEGIN WORK IN PREPARATION FOR FALL COMPETITION.

BERKELEY, June 22.—From present indications the Bonnhheim discussion at the University of California on some subjects pertaining to ethics will assume added importance this year and become the most highly coveted honor in undergraduate life. The contest which was inaugurated last year by Albert Bonnhheim was thrown open to every member of the University, but a comparatively few took the opportunity of entering the contest, as they did not thoroughly understand its significance. The successful student will receive a cash prize and the coveted honor of being the Bonnhheim scholar of the year. The subject under discussion last term was "Lynching and the Moral Law," but this topic did not attract many of the students as it was almost entirely in the realm of ethics. The Greek amphitheatre, also being built through the generosity of William Hearst, is rapidly nearing completion. All of the earth has been cut away for the laying of the stone seats. The woodwork has been taken down in most of the sections, and within a month the entire stone work on the seats will have been completed. All that will then remain to be done will be the moulding of the colonnades, and the more delicate of the work on the stage, and the wall around the top. None of this work, however, will interfere with the holding of meetings in the open-air theatre. MAY MAKE EXCEPTION OF HIGH SCHOOL JAPS. BERKELEY, June 22.—When the Board of Education meets a week from tomorrow night a protest will be presented against the establishment of a special department for the Japanese and Chinese students. The chief objection to the proposed change is that those Mongolians that are now taking work in the high school can not obtain anything like a high school training in a separate class with other of their countrymen, who are taking only a primary course. It is not to be expected that one teacher will be able to give adequate instruction in all of the high school and grammar school courses. On this ground the objection may carry some weight—enough to have the board make an exception in favor of the high school students.

AMPHITHEATRE IS NEARLY DONE.

STEEL ARRIVES FOR MINING BUILDING AND WORK IS RESUMED.

BERKELEY, June 22.—Work on the Hearst mining building, being erected on the University of California campus by W. R. Hearst, has been resumed and will be continued from now on as rapidly as possible. For some time the work has been delayed on account of the lack of steel. But this has arrived and in such quantities as to insure sufficient material to prevent any further delays. The workmen will be kept continuously busy from now on until the rainy weather sets in. By that time the building will be well under way. Already the foundation and many of the uprights for the frame work have been completed. The Greek amphitheatre, also being built through the generosity of William Hearst, is rapidly nearing completion. All of the earth has been cut away for the laying of the stone seats. The woodwork has been taken down in most of the sections, and within a month the entire stone work on the seats will have been completed. All that will then remain to be done will be the moulding of the colonnades, and the more delicate of the work on the stage, and the wall around the top. None of this work, however, will interfere with the holding of meetings in the open-air theatre.

TRAINING SCHOOL FOR NURSES.

DEPARTMENT TO BE ADDED TO BERKELEY PUBLIC SANITARIUM.

BERKELEY, June 22.—A training school for nurses will soon be established at the Berkeley Sanitarium on Mason and Ninth streets. This will be an important factor in the work of the sanitarium, and will also prove of great benefit to the town. Under the direction of a competent physician thorough training in the duties of the professional nurse. Dr. George W. Davis of San Francisco will have charge of the training school, and the young lady students will remain in attendance upon the patients that are taken to the sanitarium. GUESTS AT MONTE VISTA. The following guests are now at Monte Vista: From San Francisco—Dr. Maurice J. Sullivan, Mrs. J. L. Hoag, Mrs. J. M. Johnson, Mrs. J. W. Aushutz, Mrs. Dorville Libby, Mrs. Franklin K. PROMINENT MAN DEAD. NEW YORK, June 22.—Daniel Judson Holden, a member of the law firm of Curtis Bros., is dead at his home at this city. He was stricken very suddenly. Holden was a member of many leading clubs and an official of several large Southwestern development companies. DIED FROM GLANDERS. BOSTON, June 22.—In less than a month in this State there have been at least four deaths from glanders in human beings. The Board of Health, fearing an epidemic, is making every effort to prevent the spread of the disease.

STORMY MEETING TONIGHT FOR TOWN TRUSTEES.

Matter of Awarding City Printing Will Cause Excitement in Lobby and Board.

BERKELEY, June 22.—A lively time is in store for the Town Board of Trustees tonight when the matter of awarding the city advertising comes up. The trouble will be precipitated when the Trustees are called upon to accept or reject the bondsmen of Henry Ellis, who, at the last meeting, was the lowest bidder for the town work and whose bid the Trustees accepted. Since the last meeting this bid has raised a ferment, caused legal action to be taken by Editor Richardson of the rival town paper, the Gazette, and has caused a splitting up of the company of the successful bidder. At tonight's meeting Richardson, through Attorney Waste, will again protest against the awarding of the printing to the Standard, which has not been in existence a year. This will be only one phase of the trouble. The Standard is under attachment, but to keep the paper alive, Ellis got out an edition in Alameda. Fontcella and Eveleth have got out an edition through the aid of the Gazette. Ellis will try to keep the town contract and Fontcella and Eveleth will try equally hard to withdraw from what they consider a losing game. This is the second phase. While the Trustees will be divided between themselves, some will want to allow the work to go to the Standard and others will want to reject all bids and call for new ones. This is the third phase. However, the question in its several complications is settled, no decision can be reached without a lengthy and stormy session, and half of the business men in town will be on hand to see the battle. PERSONAL AND SOCIAL. BERKELEY, June 22.—Professor C. M. Bakewell is visiting his mother at Riverside. Dr. Ralph Dressler is spending the summer among the resorts of Shasta County. Mrs. Arnold of Durant avenue left Saturday for Los Angeles. Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Cartwright are spending a few days at Castello. Miss Edna Orr has gone to Pacific Grove for a couple of weeks' vacation. Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Mower and her sister, Mrs. Gray, will leave in the near future for a year's visit to Europe. Miss Cornelia Kempff has returned to her home after a pleasant trip to Santa Rosa, where she has been the guest of Miss Mary Rose Dean. F. M. Lawton and family left today for Ukiah. Mrs. Lawton and children will remain some time, but Mr. Lawton will return in about a week. Mrs. Benjamin Bangs and her daughters, Miss Jane and Adelaide Bangs, left recently for Washington, D. C., where they intend to spend the summer. Mrs. Rufus P. Jennings, president of the Town and Gown Club, has just returned to her home after a visit to Indianapolis, Indiana, where she had been spending several months with relatives. Arthur Elston, Governor Pardee's executive secretary, is enjoying a three-weeks' outing at the headwaters of the Kern river. During his trip he expects to make the ascent of Mt. Whitney. Miss Ethel Radcliff, Miss Mary Radcliff and W. H. Radcliff of Berkeley are at the Popo House for the summer. Miss Ethel holds the State championship as a tennis player—Santa Cruz Surf. LIGHT WIRE GIRDLES TREE WITH FLAMES. The electric light wire on Fifth street immediately south of the annex to the Hall of Records, broke and dropped to the sidewalk before the current was set on. A resident of the neighborhood, picked the end up and wound it around one of the fine trees belonging to the county. Soon after the current was let on for the night, flames began to shoot from the wire which encircled the tree with a girth of flame. A telephone message was sent to the power station and the current was shut off and a force of men was sent to repair the break. A deep furrow was burned through the bark nearly all around the tree, but it is not as yet known whether the tree has been destroyed.

GOLDEN GATE HOME DESTROYED BY DEFECTIVE FLUE—FURNITURE SAVED. BERKELEY, June 22.—About 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon an alarm was turned in from the corner of Fifty-eighth street and San Pablo avenue, the cause being fire at the home of J. Shafer, 1190 Stanford avenue. The fire companies responded quickly but the fire had gained much headway and the building was completely gutted before their arrival. Willing neighbors assisted in the removal of the contents of the house and nothing in the way of furniture was lost. Mrs. Shafer was in the house when the fire started and had a hot fire in the stove, as she was cooking, and it is thought that the fire was caused by a defective flue as the blaze started on the roof. WAS A SUCCESS. The benefit entertainment and ball given at Gier's hall in Oakland last night was a grand success. It was for the benefit of a sick convalescent, and a large number of Golden Gate people were interested in the affair. The entertainment opened with a musical and literary program, each number of which was nicely rendered, and was followed by a ball. Last but by no means least refreshments were served. Following is the program which was presented: Music, Barnum's orchestra; introduction, R. Wickman; soprano solo, Mrs. Korrell; song, Singing Society of Oakland; violin solo, M. Lytjen, accompanied by Miss McDonald; soprano solo, Mrs. Truesen; recitation, Mr. Truesen; baritone solo, Althea Hector Macdonald; Harold McLean; Herman Meyer, Will Smith, Moses Wachsmann, John Herr, Olivia Klingensberg. WILL RESIDE HERE. Mrs. Howland, who has been residing at Ninth and Market streets, Oakland, has moved to Golden Gate and will make her home with Mrs. Warner on Fifty-ninth street. STOMACH ILLS. ELMHURST, June 22.—A most enjoyable trolley ride was participated in by many of the young people here last Saturday evening. The special car started from the power house and went to Haywards, then to Oakland and returned. The ideal Mandolin and Guitar Club provided music and the party was a most pronounced success. Those who enjoyed the ride were the following: Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Pollard, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. McCord, Miss Cecelia Van Arsdale, Miss Louise Van Arsdale, Miss A. M. Rines, Miss Jessie Batchelder, Miss Katie Gray, Miss Marguerite Smith, Miss Minnie Bigler, Miss Rita Newbert, Ernest Martin, Roy Albi, Ernest Van Arsdale, Walter Newbert, Harry Rigler. LOOKING FOR HIS SON. John M. Givens has not been heard from by his aged father, Elisha Givens, for more than two years. He left for Seattle five years ago and has not written to his father for the last two years. The missing man is a widower, by occupation a contracting painter, weight about one hundred and sixty pounds, five feet five inches tall, and is forty years of age. Any information concerning his whereabouts will be thankfully received by his father. ELMHURST ABLY REPRESENTED. Alpine Grove, No. 108 U. A. O. D., was represented at the annual session of the Grand Grove at Sacramento by Charles Giovannini, of Elmhurst, J. L. Contat, also of Elmhurst, is Grand Guardian. The delegates from the local lodge were Dr. F. P. Mitchell and H. A. Cramer. SURPRISE PARTY. Alex Arlett was surprised to find himself a host last Friday evening. Several of his young friends gave him a party at his parents home on Fifth avenue. Games and refreshments served to pass the evening most pleasantly. Those present were Rosemond Williams, Hazel Kleuffer, Lila Parker, Mary Carreggio, Clara Williams, Margaret Soares, Lolla, Polsem, Claude Williams, Edward Gibson, Tracy Storor, Frank Soares, Manuel Soares, Julian Toffelmor, Dick Arlett, Harry Arlett. AT THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH. Rev. E. E. Clark, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, preached on the following subjects at the regular services yesterday: Morning service, "The Church and Modern Life," evening service, "The Gain of Christian Living." The music both morning and evening was exceptionally good. ELECTION OF OFFICERS. Elmhurst Circle, Companions of the Forest, at their last meeting elected the following officers: Mrs. W. W. Hooper, chief companion; Mrs. C. S. Alvord, chief companion; C. S. Alvord, recording secretary; Miss Gene Wallace, right

HAYWARDS MAN AND HIS WIFE WERE NOT AVERSE TO OTHERS' FRUIT. HAYWARDS, June 22.—Trustee Matthew Peterson owns a fine cherry ranch a short distance north of Haywards. He has been noticing that his trees have had less fruit on them in the morning than they had the night before. He drew his own conclusions, and last Friday night decided to climb one of the trees, carrying a large gun with him. Soon after nicely locating himself in a comfortable perch he was rewarded for his vigil by seeing a neighbor and his wife approach the very tree in which he was nestled and begin rapidly to strip it of its luscious fruit. Mr. Peterson immediately made his presence known. His friends were remarkably surprised and upon their promise not to become further addicted to the habit of filling sixty pound baskets with his cherries he let them go. On account of the prominence of the offending parties he will not disclose their names. A. O. U. W. BALL. The members of Uniform Rank of Haywards lodge, A. O. U. W., are making July 3. The affair promises to be which is to be given on Friday evening July 3. The affair promises to be one of the most successful events of the season. SERMON FOR YOUNG PEOPLE. At the Presbyterian church yesterday morning, the pastor, Rev. Dr. Dimmock, preached a special sermon to young people. FORESTERS' PICNIC. The Foresters' band of Haywards Lodge, gave a very enjoyable picnic at San Lorenzo Grove yesterday. PERSONAL. Dr. F. S. Gates and Miss GeTrude Gates of San Francisco visited Dr. A. Dean Saturday. The two gentlemen were formerly associated here in the practice of medicine. Dr. Gates is now surgeon on the Oriental steamship Galleo. George Fischer is on a two weeks' visit to his old home in Aberdeen, Washington. Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Horton and son of Oakland, visited friends here last week. Mrs. Martin Krough, of Skaggs Spring, visited Haywards last week. Joseph Nunes is recovering from the recent accident at the brewery, where he lost his right finger. PERSONAL. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Kleuffer, of Los Angeles, are the guests of Mrs. J. H. Priestly, of Pittsburg. Miss Mary N. Elzy entertained her sister, Miss Maud Elzy, of San Francisco, yesterday.

SAN LEANDRO, June 22.—The cherry picking season is now at its height in this vicinity. Although the crop is very light this season as compared with other years, yet some fairly large shipments are being made daily. The local canning factory is not in operation this year, owing to the shortness of the crop, so most of the fruit is shipped to San Francisco. It is estimated that over 1,000 men have been engaged in picking cherries in this neighborhood during the past few days. I. H. Begler, the representative of the California Fruit Canners' Association, had more than 100 cherry pickers working for him alone last week. Although the yield is small, yet there is one compensation for the growers, prices are comparatively high, and seem to be on the rise. Good cherries are worth 5 cents a quart. Heretofore they have sold for about 3 cents. NEW FOREMAN. P. Keith, of San Francisco, has received the position of foreman in the moulding department of the Best Agricultural Works. FAREWELL PARTY. Miss Louise Garcia was tendered a farewell party Saturday evening by a number of her friends. The affair was given at her home on Hayward avenue, and the house was handsomely decorated for the occasion. MIDSUMMER CLUB DANCE. The Midsummer Social Club gave their first dance in the town hall Saturday and the affair was a very pleasant one. Budd Eber acted as floor manager. PERSONAL. Miss Loretta Kelly is the guest of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. P. Morgan. She has been ill for sometime at Fabella Hospital. Frank Burnett has been engaged by the Southern Pacific Company as assistant to Station Agent McMahon. Col. Hastings, of Hayward avenue, was in San Francisco Saturday on business. Robert Morgan, of Estudillo avenue, was in Oakland Saturday. N. Henriksen, who has been visiting here the past two weeks, has returned to his home in Sonora. Justice John Black was in Oakland on business Saturday. Miss M. Rogers, of Centerville, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. William Silva. Mrs. Charles Hudson, of Liverpool, England, is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. J. Anderson. Mrs. Charles C. Williams, of San Francisco, was the guest of her mother, Mrs. Baumberger, last week. Thomas A. Edison has just gone into politics, and the people of the Orange are excited. They fear he will invent a new political machine which will bar the oldest experts. Oh, let it be soon—Philadelphia Press.

FRUITVALE, June 22.—The Sanitary Board of Fruitvale District No. 1 finished its three-weeks' sitting as a Board of Equalization. The members were carefully over the assessment roll so as to apportion a just tax on all the property owners. The rate for the coming year will be 30 cents per $100 of assessed valuation. Half of this will be needed for running expenses and the other half to pay off the outstanding bonds and interest. RED MEN BANQUET TONIGHT. Saruka Council No. 48, Degree of Pocahontas, will entertain the great Pocahontas at the meeting this evening. Ten new members will be initiated, after which the chiefs will be tendered a banquet by the local lodge. NO CELEBRATION. The proposed celebration of the Fourth of July here has been abandoned. Those interested in the project decided that there was not sufficient time to arrange a suitable program of events. JENNINGS NOT OPPOSED. F. W. Jennings, who drew up the petition that was presented to the Sanitary Board protesting against the laying of a sewer on Belmont street, has stated that he personally has no objection to the sewer. He drew up the petition at the request of some neighbors. ALLENDALE WON. The new $10,000 school house in upper Fruitvale is to be built in Alameda, the residents of that district having won the fight at Saturday night's mass meeting. The election was held in Upper School House No. 1, and was a very hotly contested affair. PERSONAL. William B. Bridge of Redwood road, is spending his vacation in Yosemite. The Messes Hattie and Kate Dunker of San Francisco, are the guests of Mrs. Ann Finkenstedt. A PECULIAR CASE. NEW YORK, June 22.—The strange case of C. Endicott Allen, a young Harvard man, is attracting much attention. He has been asleep with short intervals of semi-consciousness for the last month in a hospital at Long Branch, N. J. The only cause so far as can be learned is worry over business reverses, which recently came to his father, forcing the son to go out into the world for himself. The hospital physician has diagnosed the case at hysteria, and said there is hope that he will come out of his long sleep after a few weeks. For thirty days young Allen has taken very little solid food. Liquid food is forced down his throat, as he cannot be sufficiently aroused to swallow naturally. Nevertheless, the patient has gained in weight.

PLEASANTON, June 22.—The social dance Saturday evening given by Verona Parlor, at Nevils Pavilion was a very pleasant and well-attended affair, the music was good and the young ladies of the parlor did all they could to make it a pleasant evening for their friends. A NEW CROSSING. The large bridge at the end of Main street has been torn down to be replaced by a fine iron structure, costing upwards of $10,000. A small, temporary bridge has been built across the river to be used until the new one is finished. N. Lund has been appointed inspector of the work. There is also to be a new iron bridge at Santa Rita that crosses the Tassajara creek on the county road. TO RING OUT ALARM. The money has been raised to purchase a new fire bell. It is to be a 1500-pound bell and will be ordered this week. BUILDING WAREHOUSE. A number of carloads of lumber arrived Friday, to be used in the construction of Chadbourne's big warehouse. Work will be begun at once as it will be needed for the new crop of hay. PERSONAL MENTION. Mrs. Charles Graham visited in the bay cities Friday. Mrs. Ed. Hiller was in San Francisco during the week. Miss Elsie Benedict returned Saturday from a visit to San Francisco. Miss Minnie Harris, teacher at Buckeye, is spending her vacation at her home. Mrs. T. W. Harris, Miss Lillie Harrie, Miss M. Gilson, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Weed, Mr. and Mrs. George Deffen and Willie Gale, leave Monday for a camping trip to Roseville for three weeks. Miss Mollie Jones left Monday for a two weeks visit to Camp Capitola. Mr. and Mrs. Emerson from The Dalles, Oregon, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Morse. CASTORIA For Infants and Children. OFFICERS MAY BE INVESTIGATION.

OLD RUMORS REGARDING LOOT-ED BUILDINGS ARE REVIVED.

MANILA, June 22.—The statement that officers looted public buildings in Manila after the surrender of the city in 1898 have been revived and may possibly lead to a formal investigation.

Recently the authorities endeavored to locate certain pictures and art objects belonging to the municipal museum and the inquiry showed that they had been given to a Filipino to take care of after the surrender.

The Philippine officers tried to prove that some American officers received the pictures and it is claimed that a former staff officer abstracted a silver service from the Malacanang palace.

OAKLAND BOYS ARE CAPTURED.

BAKERSFIELD, June 22.—George Wright and Alva Olson, two young boys claiming to be but 15 and 19 years old respectively, but who appear to be much younger, are under arrest here and are being held to await advices from their parents. According to the boys' own statements, they fled away from home to take a trip and see the world on their own responsibility. They claim to have come to Bakersfield on the Owl Wednesday.

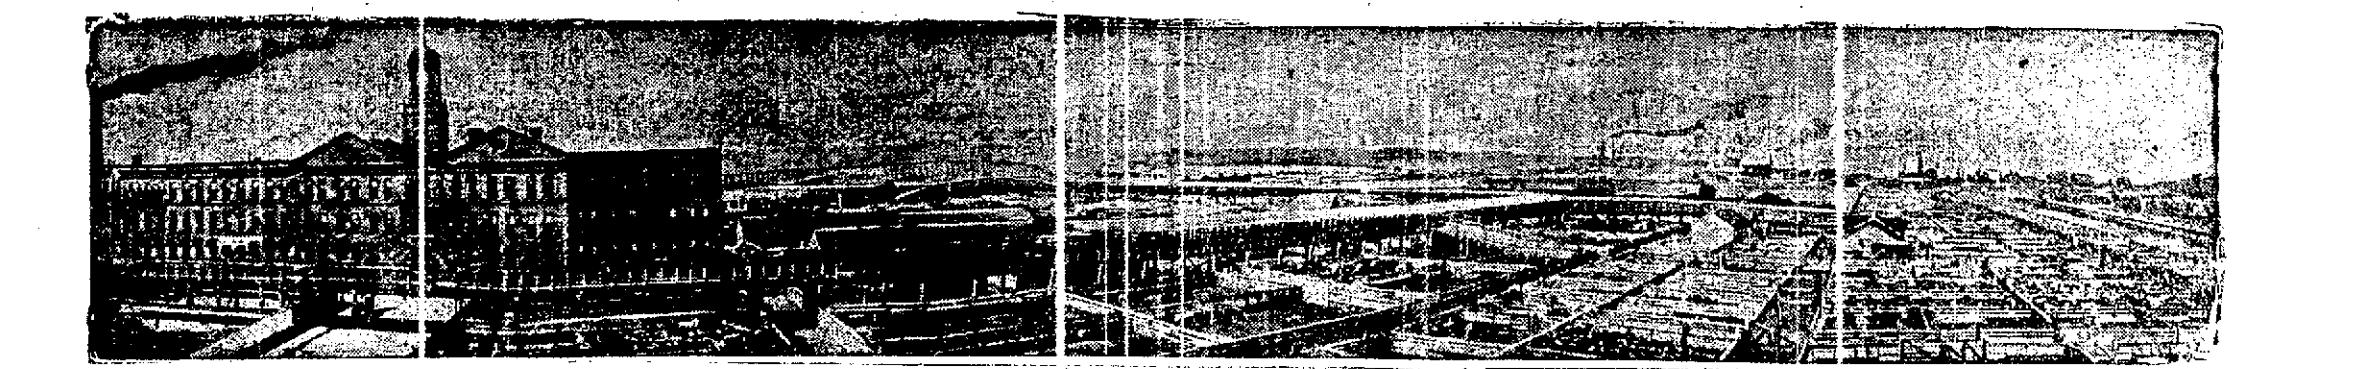

PANIC ON A CAR.

NEW YORK, June 22.—Three persons have been severely hurt and a score were cut and bruised in a panic aboard an Amsterdam avenue trolley car. The trolley in the controller box blew out and jets of blue fire frightened those sitting near by almost out of their wits. A woman leaped out and struck head first against an iron pillar. She was badly cut. Her husband with their little girl was also badly cut. The child was uninjured. Another man broke one of his legs. By this time the excitement aboard the crowded car had become intense. Several persons fainted and their falling wasengers trampled them under foot in the rush for the exits.

SURRENDERED HIMSELF.

BOSTON, June 22.—Without friends and hungry, with no place to sleep, wet and footsore, Dr. Walter Price, once prosperous physician and surgeon of this city, has surrendered to the police. He explained that a warrant had been issued against him more than a year ago on a charge of performing a criminal operation. He was tired of dodging the police, he said, and wanted to be locked up and then given a trial. Dr. Price was taken to jail.

TURNERS COMPETE FOR GAU-FEST PRIZES.

Excellence Displayed in Athletics Bowling, Fencing, Shooting, Running and Singing.

The closing events of the Gau-Turnfest will take place tonight in Germania Hall, when the prizes will be awarded to those who have won them in the bowling, fencing, shooting, singing, athletic and calisthenic contests which have been in progress among the competing Turners since last Saturday night.

TODAY. The final feats of the fest took place today in Shell Mound Park. In the morning, at 9 o'clock, there was a series of field sports which continued until 1 o'clock this afternoon. From 2 till 3 o'clock in the afternoon, there was wrestling followed by weight-lifting.

From 3 to 4 o'clock fencing and club-swinging occupied the attention of the Turners and at 5 o'clock there will be a hearty indulgence in swimming at Piedmont baths.

The winners in the various classes, scullion, and other contests are unknown, the names purposely being concealed until this evening when the prizes will be awarded.

THE JUDGES. The judges in the athletic events were as follows: Oakland Turn Verein, Richard Lenz, J. Korn, Paul Uth; San Francisco Turn Verein, P. H. Grotzsch, F. Hansmann, Hans Goetz; Mission Turn Verein, Robert Barth, A. H. Menne, F. Hauser; Sacramento Turn Verein, Gottlob Paig, P. H. Buchmann, Charles Knapp, Elmer Knapp, Scott Knapp, Fred Zeckler, P. H. Knick, H. C. F. Stahl; Los Angeles Turn Verein, R. Ross, E. Nolteck, R. Kastner.

Those who passed upon the merit of the singers were as follows: Professor E. P. Hughes, Professor J. H. W. Hermann and Professor F. Knutzenbach. SATURDAY NIGHT. The exercises of the fest began Saturday night. The Turners assembled in Germania Hall and, accompanied by the Eintracht Verein of this city, marched to Eighth street in Washington street, then to Fourteenth street, thence to Broadway, thence to Eighth and Webster streets and thence to Germania Hall where a large number of people had assembled.

WELCOMED. The Turners presented an excellent appearance. They were attired in close-fitting gray suits with black stockings and gray hats. Each member was the picture of robust young manhood.

In the absence of Mayor Olney, an address of welcome was delivered to the visitors by Acting Mayor Davin. The effort was full of appreciation of the purpose of the Turners and greeted them in warm and happy terms of friendship and love.

A reception followed and then there was another address by Albert Curran, president of the Oakland Turn Verein. The exercises closed with a ball.

SUNDAY AT THE PARK. Yesterday was a gala day at Shell Mound Park. The weather was delightful for spectators and was particularly appropriate for the indulgence of athletic work.

The park was thronged with people all of whom enjoyed the exercises to the utmost. There were more than ninety gymnasts in the competition and the spectators were treated to some splendid exhibitions on the parallel bars, horizontal bars, horses and other apparatus. The judges watched the work of the competitors with critical eyes and marked such points as the contestants deserved.

The exercises in which all the Turners took part at the same time, namely the calisthenics, were picturesque and beautiful. They were all carried out with precision and an exactness which showed remarkable training because there was not the slightest difference in time or movement, although those taking part had been under different instructors in various parts of the State.

The exercises on the grounds were under the direction of Paul Uth of this city who fills the position of director of athletics of the Gau-Turnfest. After a series of exhibitions of this kind, Theodore Gier of this city, who was director of amusements, introduced Albert Curran of Oakland, who delivered an eloquent address in German which was warmly appreciated.

He spoke of the imposing appearance presented by the young men before him who were taking part in the same exercises as did their fathers when the latter were young men—exercises which tended to develop bodily strength, vigor and health and which guaranteed a strong mind in a healthy body. He bemoaned the fact, however, that there were so few, comparatively speaking, in their ranks, a circumstance which went to show that many young men of German parentage were ashamed of, or negligent about doing honor to, the race from which they had sprung.

A PRETTY SIGHT. The prettiest sight of the day was the Maypole dance, participated in by the following children: May King, Louise Blehm; May queen, Madeline Dussort; paces, Clara Taberner, May McCulloch, Blanche Summerley and Gussie Gerhardt; dancers, Amarda Herrmann, Henrietta Schoellkopf, Lena Schoellkopf, Elsie Herrmann, Emily Blehm, Marie Holzmuller, Georgie Condade, Aileen Kramer, Sophie Tobener, Adeline Trautner, Edna Brink, Gertrude Hignier, May Carstensen, May Leffmann, Alice Barrett, Rose Rosenberg, Justin Gorse.

The children were dressed in white, with red white and blue caps. The members of the court wore wreaths of flowers. The children danced gracefully and went through the difficult evolutions with ease. C. F. Stahl, leader of the Verein Eintracht of San Francisco, was in charge of the dancing.

RELAY RACE. The relay race participated in by members of the San Francisco, Turn Verein, Eintracht Turn Verein, Oakland Turn Verein and Los Angeles Turn Verein was exciting. It was won by the Oakland Turn Verein by one-fifth of a second.

The prizes were: O. T. V.—Victor Ligda, Henry Ench, Edward Schmidt.

NEW BILL FOR IDORA PARK.

The week's bill at Idora Park is one of the best that has ever been presented in Oakland. The theatre was crowded last night with an eager and appreciative audience and the generous applause heard on all sides was evidence enough of the success of the famous Eastern stars.

Dick Mack, a tramp, is something new to this section of the country and his monologue, singing, dancing, hat spinning, etc., more than pleased the crowd.

Kalokratas, the phenomenal equilibrist, was roundly applauded. His balancing is extremely neat and clever, and his positions quite hazardous.

Amelita, the graceful and pretty Spanish dancer, is a success. Her dancing which is of the Carmenita type, captivated everyone.

Little Irene, the juvenile vocalist, is a star in her particular line. She has a voice of quality and strength which is rare in one so young.

The Misses Bruce and Ross had something new and entertaining in the way of acrobatic dancing, singing, etc. and pleased the audience more than ever.

Harry Sylvester had an entirely new collection of up-to-date illustrated songs, and as usual, was heartily applauded.

The balloon ascension at 8 high days will be given every afternoon, while the laughing gallery, cool min and scenic railway are enjoyed as much as ever. Every Friday night will be devoted to amateurs.

Extra attractions have been secured for the Fourth of July, and in the evening there will be an elaborate display of fireworks consisting of designs new, novel and original.

The admission to the gallery of the theatre is free, the dress of 10 cents and the orchestra 25 cents.

THEY ALL LOOK AT JEWEL.

TOPEKA, Kan., June 21.—Sheriff A. T. Lucas arrived here at 10 o'clock with Chauncey Dewey, W. P. McBride and Clyde Wilson, the St. Francis prisoners. They were taken immediately to a clothing store to give them to secure presentable collars, ties, etc., for their appearance before the Supreme Court. The men were surrounded by a curious crowd of sight-seers with kodaks.

They will be given an immediate hearing before the Supreme Court on their application for bail.

GATES OF OAKLAND FAIR OPEN TOMORROW.

Attractions of Various Kinds to Delight People, Young and Old, for the Next Ten Days.

The grounds of the Oakland Street Fair and Carnival present a scene of activity now that only a few hours remain before the great show will be thrown open to the public.

Hundreds of artisans of all kinds are as busy as bees, yet everything moves along smoothly and, as a consequence, a great deal of work is accomplished with neatness and dispatch.

The arrangements made for structures of a more or less permanent character are more complete than those of last year and, as a consequence, there will be a more solid and substantial appearance to every feature in the grounds than was the case of a year ago.

There will be shows of all kinds to which only a small admission fee will be charged and nearly all of these will be entirely new, having never been as far west as this before. Those which may have been seen here or elsewhere have been so improved and amplified as to have lost their old identity. There will be enough to entertain visitors throughout the continuance of the fair, which will begin tomorrow afternoon and continue until July 4.

There will be an unusually large number of booths of charitable organizations on the grounds. These will be in charge of well-known and the proceeds of their efforts will be applied to the furtherance of charitable institutions and needy people.

The Woman's Relief Corps will supply refreshments of coffee, doughnuts, beans and brown bread, under the direction of Mrs. Ada M. Brown and assistants.

The Maccabees have a large inclosure in which ice cream, oyster cocktails, coffee and sandwiches will be sold. The attendance here will be uniformed, wearing black skirts, white waists and little red aprons, while on the head they will wear their guard's caps, very much like the college mortar board. Mrs. J. H. Macartney is chairman of the Maccabees' booth.

There will be a Southern kitchen, which will be used for the benefit of the poor. The proceeds will be applied to the benefit of the Home for Aged Colored Men and Women. Mrs. Julia Shorey will be in charge.

The Royal Marionettes will be exhibited for the benefit of the West Oakland Social Settlement, under the direction of Misses Ethel Moore and Annie Sasse.

The Catholic Ladies' Aid Society will have a pretty booth decorated in scarlet, and a tree, which will glow with small lanterns. All sorts of quaint articles are to be sold, including balancing brownies, rough-riding match-safes, Cinderella dolls and pretty dolls. Mrs. T. P. Hogan, the chairman, will have a booth of assistants, who will be distinguished by white aprons and white Alsatian bows in the hair.

The Oakland Club will dispose of coffee, chocolate and edibles under the management of Mrs. C. S. Chamberlain and other ladies.

Mrs. R. R. Thompson will have direction of the booth of the Young Women's Christian Association.

At the Fabiola booth French doughnuts, which established a reputation at the last fair, will again appeal to popular appreciation, under the supervision of Mrs. J. P. Dunn and a number of other ladies.

The German Ladies' Relief Society have secured a large stock of appetizing viands, which they will serve to customers with a number of dainty refreshments.

The booth of the West Oakland Home will be under the care of Miss Grace Proctor and several ladies who made their booth a great success at the last fair. Coffee and dainty edibles will be supplied.

The fair will open tomorrow with a literary program, which will include speeches by Principal Frick, Acting Mayor Dornin, F. P. McFeeley and others. The grounds will be free to school children on that occasion and a class from the public schools will render some pretty school glances.

The entrances to the fair will be at the corner of Eleventh and Harrison streets. PROGRAM—OPENING OF FAIR. 1—Music, Callaghan's band. 2—Introductory remarks, George W. Frick, chairman literary committee. 3—Vacation song, school children (Seventh and Eighth grades of Prescott and Oak schools; direction, Miss Eliza Brown.) 4—Welcome by the Acting Mayor, Geo. W. Dornin, president of the Oakland City Council, presenting key to the city to the fair association. 5—Response, Director General Max L. Schlueter. 6—Remarks by F. P. McFeeley, president of association. 7—Song, "Come Home," school children. 8—Short address, Senator J. R. Luken. 9—Song, "Native Land," school children. 10—"America," band, children and audience.
